Health Risks Associated with the Use of Illicit Drugs and the Abuse of Alcohol

The use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol can, and in many instances very probably will, lead to serious health problems, chemical dependency, deterioration of the quality of life, and if untreated, early death.

Alcohol—Alcohol is the most frequently used and abused drug. Alcohol causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses impair the judgment and coordination required to drive a car safely. Moderate to high doses increase the incidence of aggressive acts. Moderate to high doses cause marked impairment in mental functions, severely altering a person’s ability to learn and remember. Very high doses cause respiratory depression and death. Alcohol use by pregnant women is the leading preventable cause of mental retardation in children.

Tobacco—The primary active ingredient is nicotine. Nicotine is a very toxic substance and a highly addictive stimulant. Contains carbon dioxide and monoxide, formaldehyde, hydrogen cyanide ammonia, and numerous tar, which cause cancer.

Effects of Controlled Substances

Narcotics (opium, morphine, codeine, heroin, methadone and a host of synthetic substances such as Demerol, Dilaudid, Percodan and Talwin) can cause euphoria, drowsiness, respiratory depression, constipated pupils, and nausea. Overdose can cause slow and shallow breathing, clammy skin, convulsions, coma, and death. Withdrawal symptoms include watery eyes, runny nose, yawning, loss of appetite, irritability, tremors, pain, cramps, nausea, chills, and sweating.

Depressants (chloral hydrate, barbiturates, and benzodiazepines such as Ativan, Halcion, Librium, Valium, and Xanax) can cause slurred speech, disorientation, and drunken behavior without odor of alcohol. Overdose causes shallow respiration, clammy skin, dilated pupils, weak and rapid pulse, coma, and death. Withheld, anxiety, insomnia, tremors, delirium, convulsions, and possibly death. Withdrawal symptoms include apathy, long periods of sleep, irritability, depression, disorientation, and psychosis.

Hallucinogens (LSD, psilocybin mushrooms, peyote, phencyclidine or PCP, ecstasy, MDMA, MMDA, STP and a variety of others) can cause illusions and hallucinations, poor perception of time and distance. Overdose causes longer and more intense "trips" or episodes, psychosis, and possible death. Withdrawal symptoms are not reported.

Cannabis (marijuana, Tetrahydrocannabinol or THC, and hash) can cause euphoria, relaxed inhibitions, increased appetite, and impaired memory and attention. Overdose causes fatigue, paranoia, and the possibility of a psychotic state. Withdrawal symptoms are not reported. In some instances it can depress the immune system, increase the risk of heart disease, contribute to lung diseases, and cause infertility.

Inhalants (benzene, gasoline, carbon tetrachloride, acetone, Freon, nitrous oxide or laughing gas, amyl or butyl nitrite, and organic nitrogen room odorizers) can cause a relaxed somewhat light-headed and giddy feeling, reduced inhibitions, numbness of the senses, hallucinations, loss of muscular control, headache, nausea, dizziness, double vision, and muscle spasms. Overdose can cause nausea, vomiting, loss of motor coordination, paralysis, and coma. Withdrawal has not been defined. Fatal accidents and other life-threatening situations can occur from situational use of these substances.
