The City of Walla Walla
If it’s been a while since you were in Walla Walla, you’ve probably already noticed a big change.

The wine industry has brought an elegance to the area and tourism has developed faster than anyone anticipated. And with the tourism industry has come a downtown rich in wine tasting rooms, boutiques and specialty restaurants interspersed among the historical buildings and family-owned businesses.

Step out of the city limits and you’ll find the same beauty that we’ve always had—the Blue Mountains, wheat fields, farms and rustic barns. But we’ve also added expansive vineyards, unique wineries, and gated communities.

It’s been a natural occurrence, and we’re still Walla Walla! So take time while you’re here to enjoy all that the area has to offer. Check out our athletic fields and sports events, see if one of the local theatres has scheduled a production complete with local talent, or discover if the Walla Walla Symphony has a performance scheduled.

Fall in love with Walla Walla all over again!
