Next match vs. CBC next Wednesday – Battle of unbeaten teams in East Region

Stat Leaders & Comments from Tim Toon * WWCC Volleyball Coach

Sarah Rusch            10 kills, 5 aces, 2 blocks
“Great performance at the net and from the service line. Best performance of her career.”

Jennifer Muzzall      8 Kills, 6 blocks
“Scares the other team when she’s at the net”

Lauren Davis           6 kills
“Started out slow, but finished with high-quality touches on the ball.”

Danielle Porter        17 digs
“handled the bulk of our serve receive”

Amy Small              16 assists, 3 aces

Sara Shelton           16 assists, 3 aces

“The contributions that Amy and Sara, our two setter, make to this program don’t fully show up in the stats. They do put up quality numbers every night, but their leadership and maturity on the court hold us together. They are a huge part of this team’s success.”

“Blue Mountain is a better opponent than they showed tonight. They came in a little flat and we did some nice things on our side of the court. I expect a much tougher match at their place in mid-October.

With is young team, I could have only hoped that we would tied for first place at this point in the season. Columbia Basin will be a real test next Wednesday. They have a quality fix of freshmen and sophomores and have bee playing very competitive volleyball. Although NWAACC polls have not yet come out, it is generally accepted that they are either the #1 or #2 teams in the entire NWAACC. I guess we’ll see how we stack up against one of the best.
