Course Description:
Develops competency in common business calculations for use in financial decision-making including: understanding financial statements, general transactions, balance sheet, income statement, and cash flow for businesses. In addition, students will apply financial decisions to their own business plan. Students will be in a cohort group and course will be tightly integrated with other Entrepreneurial course work required for the certificate. Equivalent course to BUS 112; student may not earn credit for both BUS 112 and 113.

Course Objectives:
- Identify and compare a variety of business financial models, evaluate these in the context of the business environment.
- Complete general ledger transactions appropriate to business accounting methods.
- Recognize and describe the functions of financial statement including: balance sheet, income statement, and statement of cash flow.
- Prepare pro-forma balance sheet including income statement and statement of cash flows that provides a basis for making financial decisions within a business.
- Conduct market research on pricing and costing and apply to the development of financial statements.
- Develop ratio calculation and analysis to evaluate business decisions.
Classroom Rules:

Professionalism:
It is expected that each student will conduct oneself in the upmost professional manner. This includes not using foul or derogatory language in the classroom, speaking with the instructor individually if there is a question or concern, and adhering to the other outlined classroom rules.

Attendance, Tardiness, and Absenteeism:
Attendance is expected and highly encouraged for successful completion of the course. Punctuality is expected. Please do not be late to class because it disrupts your fellow students’ learning and your Instructor’s teaching. Attendance is an evaluation item in this course.

Cell Phone or other Electronic Devices:
Cell phones or other electronic devices unrelated to the class are not allowed during class time. Please turn off all devices and be respectful to those around you. Disruption from electronic devices will be evaluated under attendance and participation for this course.

Cheating:
Cheating will not be tolerated. Please refer to Walla Walla Community College’s Student Code of Conduct for all policies regarding academic integrity. The college’s policy will be followed and adhered to within class, which (depending on the circumstances) may result in the student receiving a warning and a lowered grade; receiving a failing grade for the course; being dropped from the course; being recommended for suspension or dismissal from the College; or the case being referred to civil action.

Assistance:
Please contact Carol Bennett in Student Services if you have a learning disability and need assistance.

Gifts:
Per the Washington State Code of Ethics policy, an Instructor is not permitted to accept a gift from a student.

Attendance and Participation (25%):

In-Class Attendance and Participation:
Disruptive behavior in class will result in a reduction in your attendance and participation grade. By being disruptive in class, it interrupts the learning environment for others. As such, disruptive behavior by a student will be counted as a reduction in points for the day, based on severity.
Disruptive behavior may include, but is not limited to, talking with other classmates when the Instructor or a guest is speaking, using your cell phone or other electronic devices, etc.

Online Attendance and Participation:
Attendance and participation will be measured on-line based on your input provided in the Discussion Board. It is expected that you contribute in the Discussion Board by answering the question(s) at hand, and then respond to two other students by Sunday for the same discussion questions. Otherwise, you will be counted as absent.

In order to receive full credit, you must have thorough responses, including proper spelling, grammar and punctuation, both to the questions and to the comments of the other students. Note: A comment to another student must be more than a one-sentence response such as ”I agree!” I will throw out your lowest attendance score.

Homework: Deliverables (25%):
Homework will consist of problems, research, written work, and other related requirements to have completed by the assigned due date. Homework will not be accepted late. I will throw out your lowest score of these assignments.

Quizzes (10%):
Each week you will have an opportunity to test your knowledge of the concepts learned by taking an online quiz. The quiz will have an open-book and open-note format. You will have one hour to complete each quiz. Once you begin the quiz, it must be completed. You will not have an opportunity to resume it later. Quizzes will not be accepted late. I will throw out your lowest score.

Project (40%):
You will be given a final project to complete. Details regarding the project will be provided to you in class.
Grading:
Your final grade will be calculated by the weighted average score of all grades in each weighted category discussed above, and it will be assigned a letter grade dependent on the overall percentage as outlined below:
