The Program

Commercial Truck Driving offers short-term courses that provide students the potential for immediate employment in a living wage job upon successful completion. The Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) requires specialized training in the areas of driver qualification, hours of service, driver wellness, and whistleblower protection for entry-level drivers who are subject to the commercial drivers license requirements (49 CFR Part 380). The Commercial Truck Driving Program provides the mandatory training for the Washington State Commercial Truck Driving License requirements for both new and renewing drivers. Students learn to maneuver large vehicles on crowded streets and in highway traffic, as well as learn to inspect trucks and freight for compliance with regulations.

Career Opportunities

- General & Specialized Freight Trucker
- Local & Long Distance Truck Driver
- Heavy Truck Driver
- Dispatcher
- Freight Department Manager

WWCC's Degree Options

WWCC offers a Truck Driver Training Certificate and an Advanced Truck Driver Training Certificate. In addition to the certificate, Flagger training and CPR/First Aid/AED are also offered. A local background check is available which is necessary for receiving a Hazmat endorsement. If planning to work in a city, county, state, or federal job, flagger and first aid training are often required.

The Commercial Truck Driving program also offers a passenger and school bus endorsement.
